

SULA 7

Semantics of Under-Represented Languages in the Americas

4-6 May 2012
Ithaca, NY

The goal of SULA is to bring together researchers working on languages or dialects spoken in the Americas that lack an established tradition of work in formal semantics. We especially support work that involves primary fieldwork or experimentation as well as analysis.

Invited Speakers:

Maria Bittner

Rutgers University

Theodore Fernald

Swarthmore College

Richard Littlebear

Chief Dull Knife College

Robert Henderson

University of California, Santa Cruz

Meagan Louie

University of British Columbia, Vancouver

Pre-Registration Required at <http://conf.ling.cornell.edu/SULA7/>

Contact:
SULA7.cornell@gmail.com

Venue:
Friday Sessions:
Clark Hall 700
Saturday & Sunday Sessions:
Physical Sciences Building 120

Cornell University
American Indian Program

Cornell University
Sage School of Philosophy

Cornell University
Department of Linguistics

Central New York
Humanities Corridor

Cornell University
Institute for the Social Sciences